DR R P SRIVASTAVA

Surgeons' week

At the outset of the celebration of 'Surgery and surgeons' centric weeklong activities across the country appeared like a daydreaming.

Even at the climax of my optimism, I could not think so. When HQ called and our chapter Secy dynamite Rajesh shared the idea I had reservations.

But going through each day of activity and having attended climax at current national President's place of abode, Aurangabad, MH I feel rejuvenated and fresh. I travelled all the way back from my USA family vacation to attend the final celebration.

I am sure this bunch of activities has rejuvenated every member surgeon of our state.

The indulgence and pleasure sharing have been exemplary.

It has infused sense of belonging and pride in every member, I am sure.

I register my deep appreciation for the current chapter chairman Prof Dr Sandeep and dynamite like Secretary Dr Rajesh for their quality leadership and camaraderie.

Long live ASI!

DR MD AZAD

GC Member, ASI- Jharkhand Chapter

For the first time in the history, national surgeon's week was celebrated with great zeal throughout the country. And Jharkhand chapter was a frontliner in this celebration. Almost all city branches, medical colleges and state executive team did their best in this week-long endeavour. Guidelines of national ASI was followed word by word. Free health check camps, free surgery camps, blood donation, walkathons, CME, training, health awareness and other programs were held throughout Jharkhand state. We are proud to say that our premier institution-rims- led by the front in all activities and set very high standards in all activities. Other city branches also did their best.

At the end i would to extend my heartfelt thanks to all skilled surgeons who dedicate their lives to healing and saving others. We celebrate your expertise, precision, and compassion. Your tireless efforts and commitment to patient care make a difference in countless lives. Thank you for your services.

DR D K SINHA

HOD, Dept. of Surgery, RIMS, Ranchi

It gives me great pleasure to share that Surgeons' Week was successfully celebrated at RIMS Ranchi from 9th to 15th June 2025. The week began with a spirited walkathon 'Surgithon' and a nukkad natak on the theme "Say No to Quacks." A workshop on CT scan evaluation was held, followed by a blood donation camp with over 40 donations. We had the honour of felicitating the 96-year-old senior-most surgeon of our city Prof Dr B N S Bhosle, along with other senior surgeons, followed by a delightful Gala Dinner and Musical Night. The next morning saw a tree plantation drive and health check-up for our team. A quiz competition for junior residents was conducted with six teams participating. The week concluded on the 15th with prize distribution and a friendly cricket match between two teams of budding surgeons.

I thank all participants and organizers for making this celebration meaningful and memorable.

DR SANDIP KUMAR

Chairman, ASI- Jharkhand Chapter

It is truly heartening to witness the enthusiasm and unity with which we, as a committed surgical fraternity, came together to celebrate National Surgeons' Week 2025. The energy and participation across various activities—from the invigorating Walkathon and socially impactful Nukkad Natak to the vital blood donation camp, free OPDs, and life-transforming surgeries—highlighted the compassionate spirit of our profession.

Equally commendable were the intellectually stimulating quiz competitions, the gracious felicitation of our senior surgeons, and the spirit-lifting sports activities, all culminating in a memorable Gala Dinner. These events were more than just celebrations—they reinforced the strength of our shared identity and camaraderie.

This year, we marked a historic milestone with the first-ever Surgeons' Day, a moment that reminds us of the extraordinary service surgeons provide to society. Let this be a reminder of our unwavering commitment to excellence and patient care.

As we continue our journey, may this spirit of unity, service, and professionalism continue to guide us. Here's to many more achievements together!

Wishing you all joy, success, and continued progress—Happy Surgeons' Day 2025!

Secretary, ASI- Jharkhand Chapter

Celebrating Our Legacy, Strengthening Our Future

It is with immense pride and joy that I extend warm wishes to all on the occasion of the first-ever Surgeons' Day 2025. This historic moment marks not only a celebration of our profession but also a reaffirmation of the values that bind us as surgeons—dedication, resilience, and compassion.

The National Surgeons' Week organized across Jharkhand was a reflection of the strength of our Chapter and the synergy among its members. Whether it was the community-oriented initiatives like the blood donation drive, free OPDs, and awareness campaigns, or the enriching academic and cultural events including CMEs, quizzes, felicitation ceremonies, and sporting engagements—the week offered something meaningful for everyone.

Behind every successful activity was the commitment of our members who came together with a shared vision: to uphold the dignity of surgery and serve our community with heart and skill. As Secretary, I feel deeply inspired by the enthusiasm and spirit shown by every city branch, medical college, and participating institution. Let this first Surgeons' Day be the foundation of a tradition that grows stronger each year—one that not only celebrates our past achievements but also ignites a passion for greater service, innovation, and unity.

Wishing all my colleagues across the state a Happy Surgeons' Day and continued success in the noble art of healing.

Cutting Through with Purpose

It gives me immense pleasure to present this special edition of "Cutting Edge", dedicated to the celebration of Surgeons' Day 2025—a historic first—and the inspiring week that preceded it. The National Surgeons' Week was more than a calendar of events; it was a reflection of our collective identity as surgeons—skilled, compassionate, and deeply committed to societal well-being. From academic sessions to community outreach, public health activities to celebrations of legacy, the week highlighted how the surgical fraternity in Jharkhand continues to grow in strength, purpose, and unity.

Through this issue, we aim to capture not just the events, but the spirit behind them. The enthusiasm shown by our city branches, medical colleges, and senior and junior members alike, is a testament to the vibrant character of ASI Jharkhand.

As Editor, I thank all contributors, volunteers, and leaders who made this issue possible. I also encourage continued sharing of surgical experiences, academic contributions, and community efforts for future editions.

Let's continue shaping lives—with skill, service, and solidarity.

Happy Surgeons' Day to all!

TRUE STALWART

It is our proud privilege to honour a towering figure in the world of surgery — Dr. Braj Nandan Singh Bhonsle, a name synonymous with surgical excellence and academic integrity.

Dr. Bhonsle completed his MBBS in 1953 and his MS in General Surgery in 1956 — a time when few dared to take the path he chose with such clarity and conviction. He went on to earn the prestigious FRCS (England) in 1959, marking him as one of the few surgeons from India at the time to be recognized internationally.

In 1962, he joined Rajendra Institute of Medical Sciences (RIMS) — then RMCH — and what followed was over two and a half decades of unwavering dedication to surgical education, clinical brilliance, and mentorship. He served the nation and its institutions with grace and intellect until his retirement in 1988.

To this day, his legacy lives on in the countless students he has trained, the patients he has healed, and the standards he has set for generations to follow.

We are deeply honored to celebrate the life and work of a true stalwart of Indian surgery.

CME at Daltonganj:

As part of the National Surgeons' Week celebrations, a focused Continuing Medical Education (CME) session was organized at Daltonganj under the aegis of ASI Jharkhand Chapter. The session featured two insightful talks addressing challenges and evolving practices in surgical care, especially relevant to smaller towns.

Dr. Ankit Verma delivered an eye-opening talk on "Inadvertent Use of CT Scan in Small Towns", emphasizing the growing need for clinical judgment and rational imaging practices to avoid unnecessary investigations.

Dr. Kumar Nisant Singh followed with a comprehensive presentation on "Hydatid Cyst of the Liver - Surgical Management", sharing valuable operative strategies and case-based experiences in managing this parasitic condition.

The session was well-received by local practitioners and postgraduate students, sparking thoughtful discussion and reaffirming ASI's commitment to continuous education across all corners of the state.

Surgithon a Walkathon

– A Step Towards Surgical Awareness and Public Health

The Surgithon was successfully organized by the Department of Surgery, RIMS, Ranchi in collaboration with the Association of Surgeons of India (ASI) – Jharkhand Chapter and the Ranchi City Branch as a key event during the National Surgeons Week celebrations.

The event was led by Dr. D.K. Sinha, Professor and Head of the Department of Surgery, RIMS, who inspired participants with his presence and message on the importance of community engagement and preventive healthcare.

Held within the RIMS campus, the walkathon witnessed enthusiastic participation from faculty members, postgraduate residents, medical students, and healthcare workers. The event aimed to raise awareness about timely surgical care, organ donation, and the role of surgeons in preventive healthcare.

The Surgithon Walkathon not only showcased solidarity among the surgical fraternity but also served as a strong gesture of outreach to the public, reaffirming the commitment of surgeons to serve beyond the operation theatre.

NUKKAD-NATAK

Nukkad Natak – Spreading Surgical Awareness through Street Theatre
As part of the National Surgeons Week celebrations, the Department of Surgery, RIMS, Ranchi, organized a Nukkad Natak to connect with the public through impactful street theatre. The performance focused on dispelling myths related to surgical illnesses, discouraging blind faith in quackery ("Dhongi Babas"), and raising awareness about road traffic safety.

The initiative was led by Dr. Ajay Kumar, Associate Professor, under the guidance of Dr. Nishit Ekka Paul and with active support from Dr. Amit. The team of enthusiastic medical students and residents delivered a powerful and engaging performance that captured the attention of onlookers and conveyed critical health messages in a simple, relatable manner.

The street play was well-received by the audience and served as an effective medium to promote evidence-based medical practices and responsible public behavior in emergency situations, especially related to road traffic accidents.

Through this creative outreach, the Department reinforced the role of surgeons not only in operating theatres but also in public health advocacy and education.

CME and Workshop on CT Scan for Surgeons

As part of the National Surgeons Week celebrations, a dedicated CME and Workshop on CT Scan for Surgeons was organised by the Department of Surgery in association with ASI – Jharkhand Chapter. The session aimed to enhance the understanding and application of CT imaging in surgical decision-making.

We were privileged to have Dr. Suresh Toppo, Professor and Head, Department of Radiology, as the invited faculty. Dr. Toppo delivered an insightful lecture on the principles of CT imaging, interpretation of common surgical pathologies, and the judicious use of imaging in emergency settings. The interactive session was followed by hands-on demonstrations and case discussions, which were highly appreciated by the attending surgeons and postgraduate trainees.

The workshop served as a valuable platform to bridge the gap between radiological findings and surgical intervention, fostering better interdisciplinary collaboration for improved patient outcomes.

BLOOD DONATION CAMP AT RIMS RANCHI

As a part of the National Surgeons Week celebrations, a Blood Donation Camp was organized at RIMS, Ranchi, in collaboration with the Department of Surgery and the Blood Bank. The camp was held at the New Academic Building, aiming to promote the spirit of service and voluntary blood donation among healthcare professionals and students.

A total of 40 units of blood were collected during the event, reflecting the enthusiastic participation and commitment of doctors, staff, and students. The initiative not only contributed to strengthening the blood reserves of the institute but also raised awareness about the importance of regular blood donation in saving lives.

The event stood as a testament to the theme of the week — "Skill. Science. Service." — and highlighted the humanitarian spirit that defines the surgical fraternity.

Let me know if you'd like to include the names of key organizers or photos from the event.

CME AT GIRIDH

As part of the National Surgeons Week celebrations, a CME program was successfully organized at Giridih under the leadership of Dr. Rajesh Kumar Singh, Chairperson, and Dr. Rajiv Kumar, Secretary, ASI Giridih City Branch.

Conducting a CME in a rural setting is an achievement in itself, reflecting the commitment of the local surgical community to academic growth and outreach. Under the dynamic leadership of Dr. Rajesh Kumar Singh, the impossible seems possible. The program witnessed enthusiastic participation and featured informative sessions relevant to day-to-day surgical practice in peripheral areas.

This initiative truly embodied the ASI's spirit of Skill, Science, and Service, even in remote corners of the state.

CME AT JAMSHEDPUR

As part of the National Surgeons Week celebrations, a CME was organized by the Jamshedpur City Branch of ASI in association with the Tata Motors Medical Society. The event was hosted at the Auditorium, Tata Motors Hospital, and witnessed enthusiastic participation from medical professionals across the city.

The highlight of the session was an engaging talk titled "Rendezvous with Neurosurgeon", delivered by Dr. Hardik Lalit Siroya, an eminent neurosurgeon. Dr. Siroya shared valuable insights into the neurosurgical perspective in trauma and elective cases, emphasizing collaborative care between general surgeons and neurospecialists.

The CME served as a platform to strengthen inter-specialty communication and deepen understanding of neurosurgical emergencies, making it a highly appreciated academic initiative during the week-long celebrations.
